DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-23 were pending in this application. Claims 1-23 were examined and rejected in the Office action mailed out on 12/01/08.
2. This Office action is in response to the amendment filed on 2/27/2009.

Response to Amendment

3. According to the amendment, claims 10, 11, 14 and 21 have been canceled. Accordingly, claims 1-9, 12, 13, 15-20, 22 and 23 are pending in this present application and they presented for examination.
4. Claims 1-15 have been amended to overcome the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 101, therefore, the rejection is hereby withdrawn.
5. A new abstract is provided with the amendment. Examiner acknowledges no new matter is added to the new abstract.
6. Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejection of claims 1-10, 12, 13 and 15-23 under 35 USC § 102 have been fully considered but they are moot in view of new ground of rejection.
7. With respect to the rejection of claims 8, 11, and 14, applicant asks Examiner to provide evidence to support the rejection. In this Office action, Examiner provides specific factual findings to support the rejection.
8. On page 9 of the Remarks, applicant argues that because of the principle of operation of the invention of Magnus, providing a drive motor will not improve the effectiveness of Magnus's device is incorrect. Examiner contends that it would be obvious to replace the thumb wheel 5 of Magnus et al with a drive motor to improve the efficiency of the device because it has been held that replacing mechanical component with electro-mechanical component to improve efficiency of the device is old and well known in the art.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

11. Claims 1-9, 12, 13, 15-20, 22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Magnus et al. (U.S. 2,423,245) in view of

Floessholzer et al. (US Pub. No. 2006/0004383 A1) further in view of Avrahami et al (US 5,133,722).

12. Magnus discloses (see Fig. 5) a method of removing hair by using an epilator 1 comprising a tape 7, pressure device 20 for applying the tape against the skin, the tape is fed from the pressure device to the deflector devices 8 and the opposing corner of 8. The epilator also includes supply reels 2 and take-up reel 4 (col. 3, line 65 to col. 4, line 29). Magnus discloses the invention substantially as claimed except for the two deflector elements are rotatably suspended, the drive motor which drive the take-up reel, and the drive motor is activated when the epilator apparatus is applied against the skin. However, in an alternative embodiment (Fig. 6) discloses the roller 33 or deflector element is rotatably suspended. It has been held that substitution of one known element for another to obtain predictable result is old and well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to replace the deflectors as disclosed in Fig. 5 with two deflector as disclosed in Fig. 6.
13. However, Floessholzer discloses using drive motor to drive the supply and take up tape. It has been held that replacing mechanical component with electro-mechanical component to improve efficiency of the device is old and well known in the art. Therefore, it would have been obvious to replace the thumb wheel 5 of Magnus et al with a drive motor to improve the efficiency of the device.
14. However, Further, Avrahami discloses (Figs. 1-2) a device of removing hair from a skin, comprising, among other things: a drive motor with sensor for actuating the drive motor (col. 1, lines 54-58). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a sensor mechanism to actuate the drive motor only when it is in the position that ready to operate as taught by Avrahami to the device of Magnus/Floessholzer to improve the effectiveness of the device.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
